

Siam Pagoda Thai Garden Restaurant

FFJ. 2012

When you think Clayfield, you probably don't think gourmet. But we're here to tell you that there's one delicious restaurant in the 'burbs that's putting the surrounding suburbs to shame.

Tucked away on Junction Road, Siam Pagoda dishes up some of the best Thai food in town – this year they were even nominated for 2016 & 2017 Award for Excellence to prove it! So you can take our word for it that this hidden gem is definitely worth a drive to the north side.

You could get takeaway, but with both a leafy patio and warm and cosy dining room to eat in, and the option to BYO, we'd suggest sitting down to a feast – and feast you will with all their delicious dishes to choose from! You'll find all your favourite Thai feeds on the menu, from pad Thai to massaman curry, along with a few unique creations you won't find anywhere else. (BY GOURMAND & GOURMET)
